

BALLYFIN

Dear friends,

Since March of this year, we have endeavoured to keep you informed of the progress of the demesne and share with you that, whilst the world had more or less come to a standstill, nature certainly had not. It is with great pleasure that I share with you that we are now looking forward to life returning inside the house too!

As the country slowly opens up, we are thrilled to confirm that we will reopen our doors on July 23rd (government allowing of course). In the meantime, Martina will be more than happy to answer any of your queries and assist you in making your reservation.

With 614 acres of private land and a 40,000 square feet house, physical distancing has never been a concern for us. It will be even less so from July 23rd as we will only utilise 12 of our 20 bedrooms to begin with, ensuring a maximum space for those staying with us.

Rest assured that, as always, the care and dedication of the team will be focused solely on your safety and making your stay at Ballyfin exceptional in every way.

We all look forward to welcoming you very soon.

Damien & the team.
